ATTEMPT ON LIFE OF POSTMASTER

Edward M. Morgan at Head of N. Y. Postal System is Dying

SHOT BY AN ASSASSIN

Would be Slayer Turns Gun on Himself and Blew Out
His Own Brains.

New York, Nov. 9.—Edward M. Morgan, postmaster of New York City, was shot and fatally wounded today by a man who accosted him near his home on Broadway. The assassin, who was later identified as Eric H. Mackay, a stenographer, then blew out his own brains. Morgan was accompanied by his 12-year-old daughter when he left home. Mackay came across the street toward him.

"Is this Mr. Morgan?" he asked, and the little girl moved on.

"Yes, I am Mr. Morgan," she heard her father say, and then she saw Mackay press the pistol against her father's stomach and fire. As the postmaster reeled and fell, the assassin placed the gun against his own forehead and blew a hole through the top of his head. Morgan was taken home. He had been shot in the left side of the abdomen. Inquiry at the office of Hunt, Hill & Betts developed the information that Mackay had been a stenographer for that firm. Before becoming postmaster Morgan was in charge of many investigations of dishonesty in connection with the work of postal clerks. It is believed this caused the tragedy.

Postmaster Morgan was operated on at noon. It was found that his intestines had not been perforated by Mackay's bullet and he is thought to have a good chance for recovery.

Morgan says he never saw the man who shot him before and mystery surrounds the motive for the crime. A plot is suspected by the police and that more than one man is involved.

ROBBED AND MURDERED.

White Plains, N. Y., Nov. 9.—Thomas Wallman, a peddler, whose home was in Brooklyn, was shot and killed by highwaymen and robbed of a small amount of money he carried. His body was found on the outskirts of Mt. Kisco.

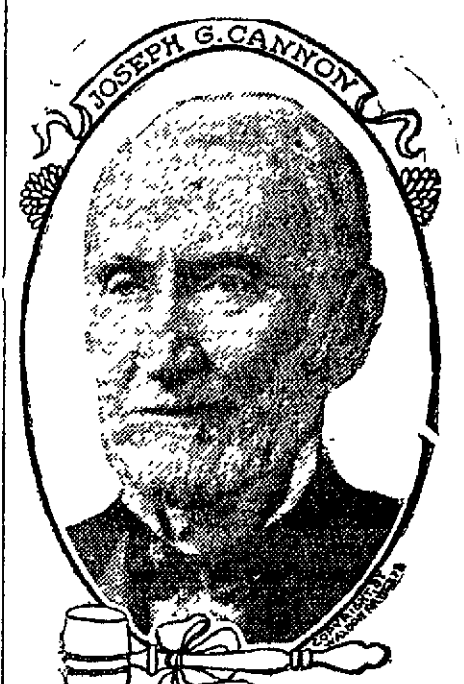

PIPES FOUND LEAKING AT ELEVENTH STREET BRIDGE NUMBER 20 OUT OF 34

It is said that workmen will be required to keep busy on the re-laying of the Eleventh street water pipe until the middle or last of next week before it is completed.

It has now been found that in all there will be 325 feet of pipe to remove—150 feet north of the bridge, 100 feet on the bridge, and 75 feet south of it. In the 325 feet of pipe there are just 34 joints and 20 of them said a member of the Service Board were found to be leaking when uncovered, leaving just fourteen good joints.

CANNON AND MAN WHO SEEKS TO SUCCEED HIM.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Congressman Chas. N. Fowler of New Jersey, chairman of the committee on banking and currency of the House of Representatives, has announced that he will be a candidate for speaker of the House in opposition to Joseph G. Cannon. Speaker Cannon, who was re-elected by the Danville district of Illinois, will be a candidate. It is known that Mr. Fowler has been displeased with Mr. Cannon's rule as presiding officer of the lower house and especially his attitude toward the Fowler currency bill.

KILLS FATHER TO SAVE MOTHER.
Elizabeth, N. J., Nov. 9.—While defending himself and mother from the attacks of his father, Albert Messig, Jr., 18 years old, shot and probably fatally wounded his father, Albert Messig, a butcher.

EMPEROR WILLIAM IS THREATENED

Strassburg, Germany, Nov. 9.—The entire police force of Strassburg is today trying to find the author of placards which were posted over the entire city threatening Emperor William with assassination when the next visit Alsace Lorraine. The police say the threats emanate from a band of Alsatian anarchists.

MR. BRYAN MAY SUCCEED ANDREWS

At State University of Nebraska According To Report

POSITION PAYS $7,000

Chancellor Andrews Was a Former President of Denison University at Granville.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 9.—William J. Bryan, thrice a candidate for the presidency, and thrice defeated, may become chancellor of the State university of Nebraska, succeeding Dr. E. Benjamin Andrews, who last week tendered his resignation to the board of regents because of ill health.

Members of the board decline to discuss the question of the Andrews succession, saying it is their rule to proceed secretly in such matters and that nothing can be given out for publication until the office has been professed and accepted. In university circles, however, gossip links the name of Mr. Bryan with the chancellorship.

Mr. Bryan was asked for an expression today and said he had not previously heard of it, and that there was nothing concerning the situation which would warrant him in making any statement.

The chancellorship at Nebraska university pays an annual salary of $6,000. Dr. Andrews was offered $7,000 two years ago, but declined an increase on the ground that other departments of the university were in more need of the money. He is to retire as chancellor early in the year and is to take a long European trip to recoup his health.

E. Benjamin Andrews was president of Denison university for a number of years in the latter seventies. He was a man of most peculiar form of character. Every student who came under his influence believed as he believed and was drawn to him by the strength and individuality of his character. E. Benjamin Andrews is one of the most learned men of the country on literary and economic questions. He was one of the men selected for the compilation of the Standard dictionary. He has always taken the free trade side of the tariff question and is a Democrat in his inclination. His ideas respecting the moral character of God, Bible instruction in the common schools, the tariff and other national economic questions made his associations with Denison University uncongenial.

PREPARING FOR CONTEST.
Lima, Nov. 9.—Both the drays and wets of Allen county have thrown open headquarters for the contest under the Rose local option law, which is expected to be fought out here early in December. The villages of Westminster, Harrod, Elida, Lafayette and Beaverdam already are dry. There are approximately 14,500 votes in the county.

KING PETER MAY ABDICATE

Belgrade, Nov. 9.—Unable to curb the warlike spirit of the Servians, King Peter is hourly expected to abdicate the throne in favor of his son, Crown Prince George. The Crown Prince is virtually in control now. Since his return from St. Petersburg where he was received by the Czar, he has been fired by a war spirit and has been making most inflammatory speeches.

OHIOAN TO GET DECORATION.
Paris, Nov. 9.—The nomination of Wilbur Wright, the American aviator, will go before the grand council of the Legion of Honor today, and he will probably be included in the New Year's list of decorations.

WAR COLLEGE IS DEDICATED

Washington, Nov. 9.—The new army war college was dedicated here this afternoon. Secretary of State Root made the principal address. Gen. J. Franklin Bell, chief of staff, and Brigadier General W. A. H. Thompson, of the general staff, also spoke.

PRISONER, VICTIMS AND PROSECUTOR IN THE GUNNESS MURDER CASE.

Laporte, Ind., Nov. 9.—The trial of Ray Lamphere, charged with the murder of Mrs. Belle Gunness of murder farm fame, is scheduled to begin at Laporte, Ind., today. The case has been complicated by the statement of Charles Hudson, a farmer, who says he saw Mrs. Gunness at her farm in July of three months ago.

SAID TO HAVE GIVEN HARD BLOW

Suppressed Interview of Kaiser's Jolts
Roosevelt

BIG FINANCIAL LOSS

Sustained by Magazine Which Withdrew Article as Act of Courtesy to Emperor.

New York, Nov. 9.—F. H. Scott, publisher of the Century magazine, stated today that the omission in the next number of an interview with Emperor William was purely a matter of courtesy to the kaiser and that the magazine gladly assumes the large financial loss occasioned by the widespread advertising of the article written by William Bazarj Hale.

In the smothered interview it is rumored that the kaiser spoke of President Roosevelt and of matters affecting the United States in a manner that would have aroused a great storm of public wrath in this country as has been shown in Great Britain by the kaiser's interview in the London Standard.

Since the kaiser has begun to appreciate the storm raised in England by the interview with him printed in London, he is reported to have become worried about the effect of some of his statements regarding the first and last subjects of the advertised interview. In literary circles in New York it is regarded as a certainty that the interview would never have been withdrawn except at the express request of the kaiser and his ministers.

LATEST FROM COLUMBUS.
Columbus, Nov. 9.—5 p. m.—With reports from all the counties of the state except Ashland on unofficial returns, D. S. Creamer's plurality over C. C. Green for treasurer of state continues about the 7,000 mark, and it is not believed that it can be carried through the official count below 5,000.

Many persons profess to believe that Mrs. Gunness killed her children, burned her house and left the country, to escape arrest for the which he says he outlined the campaign against the Boers.

Mr. Scott would not speak of the matter prepared in the interview. He said everything was covered by the announcement of the Century that Mr. Hale had been permitted to withdraw the copy "because of recent developments."

Said Mr. Scott, "I have nothing to say as to whether the request that the article be suppressed came from the kaiser or not. I have nothing to say regarding any exchange of messages or anything else. The Century simply believes it courteous to omit the publication of the interview, and has done so."

"It is a matter of simple courtesy," Mr. Scott said. "The magazine does not consider the matter of expense. No such arrangements have even been thought of."

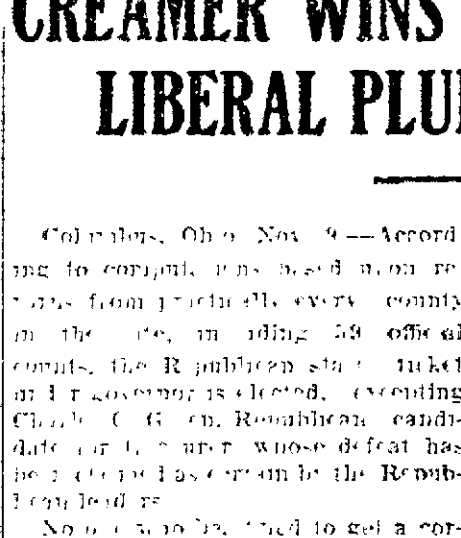

Richard Watson Gilder, editor of the magazine, declined to speak of the suppressed interview.

In advertising the interview the Century announced that it dealt with "impressions of President Roosevelt—war and Christianity—the true mission of wealth—the principles of architecture—the Roman Catholic church."

New York, Nov. 9.—Chas. W. Morse, the "ex-ice king," sentenced to 15 years in prison for misappropriating the funds of the National Bank of North America,

New York, Nov. 9.—Morse was denied bail pending preparation of papers for a review of his case. His attorneys, however, hope to obtain his release on bail through an order from the Court of Appeals.

CUBANS HOLD ELECTION ON SATURDAY

Government Intervention
Will End on Jan.
28, 1909

WILL WITHDRAW TROOPS

Conservative and Liberals in the Field—Little Difference in Platform.

Havana, Nov. 9.—On Saturday next elections will be held throughout the island for president, vice president, senators and representatives of the lower house of congress, to whom according to the present program will be committed the fate of the restored Cuban republic on the termination of the government of intervention, January 28, 1909.

The troops of the United States will be withdrawn on that date, which is three days in advance of the date originally set, in order that their departure may mark the anniversary of the birth of Jose Marti, the Cuban patriot, and the great body of Cubans have striven during the last few months toward a selection of candidates who will best realize their desire for self-government.

Preparations for the elections are now complete. All of the election officers have been appointed, the electoral boards organized and the ballot boxes distributed, and the whole island is absorbed in the outcome of the struggle for supremacy. The Conservatives are headed by Gen. Mario Menocal and Dr. Rafael Montoro the presidential and vice presidential candidates, respectively, while General Jose M. Gomez and his former bitter rival in the party leadership, Alfredo Zayas, are the nominees of the Liberal party, and the Miguelista and Zayistas factions of which finally united their forces in support of General Gomez on the understanding that he would not be nominated for a second term.

It is assured beyond peradventure that absolute fairness will characterize the elections, about which every safeguard has been cast by the provisional government in accordance with an elaborate election law framed by the advisory commission, of which Colonel Crowder is chairman. Both of the political leaders have given absolute assurance that they will accept loyally the result of the popular verdict.

There is practically no difference in the platforms of the two parties, both having as their chief plank the preservation of the Republic, equal rights for all citizens, the encouragement of agriculture and commerce and the maintenance of friendly relations with the United States. The struggle is frankly for the possession of the government and the control of public patronage.

Both General Gomez and General Menocal are veterans of the revolution and have a large following in virtue of their distinguished services in the field. Dr. Montoro is the foremost orator in Cuba and was nominated in the expectation of his being able to control the Spanish vote, but he is unpopular with many Cubans on account of his attitude during the revolution when he held office in the autonomous government in the last days of the Spanish regime.

Senator Zayas is the idol of a large section of the Liberals. He was the leader of the last uprising against President Tomas Estrada Palma, but his followers are suspected of giving him lukewarm support to the candidacy of General Gomez, between whom and Senator Zayas there was an implacable feud until it was apparent that the very existence of the Liberal party was dependent upon a compromise, whereby Senator Zayas withdrew his pretensions to the presidency. The two factions, however, did not actually fuse, but Zayas accepted a nomination for the vice presidency, and the Zayistas promised to aid in the election of the coalition candidates.

TWO HUNTERS DROWN.
Peoria, Ill., Nov. 9.—By the returning of a "cowboat" in a collision with a hidden fishboat, William B. Clark and John Pierson, of St. David, Ill., were drowned in the Illinois river, near Liverpool, Ill. The men were duck hunting at the time. Frank Evans, a third member of the party, was rescued.

It is believed that the law will be the ordering of a blood feud of sheep.

FAVORITE FOOD CAN BE EATEN.

ENJOY YOUR MEALS WITHOUT FEAR OF DYSPEPSIA OR AN UPSET STOMACH.

Why Not Let Diapiesin Take Care of Your Meals Until Your Stomach Gets Strong and Healthy.

If your meals don't tempt you, or you feel bloated after eating and you believe it is the food which fills you; if what little you eat lies like a lump of lead on your stomach; if there is difficulty in breathing after eating; eructations of sour food and acid; heartburn, brash or a belching of gas, you can make up your mind that you need something for a sour stomach and indigestion.

To make every bite of food you eat aid in the nourishment and strength of your body, you must rid your stomach of poisons, excessive acid and stomach gas which sours your entire meal—interferes with digestion and causes so many sufferers of Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Nauseous breath, and stomach trouble of all kind; Putrefying the intestines and digestive canal, causing such misery as Bloating, Constipation, Griping, etc. Your case is no different—you are a stomach sufferer, though you may call it by some other name; your real and only trouble is that which you eat does not digest, but quickly ferments and sours, producing almost any unhealthy condition.

A case of Pape's Diapiesin will cost fifty cents at any pharmacy here, and will convince any stomach sufferer five minutes after taking one Triangule that Fermentation and Sour Stomach is causing the misery of Indigestion.

No matter if you call your trouble Catarrh of the Stomach, Nervousness or Gastritis, or by any other name—always remember that a certain cure is waiting at your Pharmacist any time you decide to begin its use.

Pape's Diapiesin will purify the stomach and most acid stomach within five minutes, and digest promptly, without any fuss or discomfort all of any kind of food you could eat.

The Democratic party was defeated on the 3d inst., but it was enabled to snatch some brands from the burning. It made a substantial gain in the next Congress. It elected its candidates for Governor in four strong Republican States. There is much reason for joy in these substantial achievements. They furnish a revelation of unsuspected strength awaiting the spur of suitable incentive to put the party once more in control of Federal administration.

In the elections for Congress in Indiana and Nebraska is a political revolution of which the significance cannot be overestimated. In the present Congress the two States are represented by fourteen Republicans and five Democrats. In the next Congress they will be represented by sixteen Democrats and three Republicans. The explanation of the revolution is that the people of those States had no confidence in the promises of the "friends" of the tariff, and preferred therefore to send to Congress men in whom they could confide.

One of the brightest young Republicans of Newark announced to a representative of the Advocate when the late county nominations of his party were made that he had declined to be a candidate of his party for the reason that he felt certain that this was not the year for a man to accept a Republican nomination in Licking county. The result on November 3, shows that this young Republican was wise enough to see that inevitable so far as Old Licking was concerned.

You can run factories full when there is full demand for the product. You can run them part time when there is less demand. The demand comes from consumption of the product. Mills may start with a whirl on "confidence," but unless the product goes into consumption, they will stop again. This is the economic law. You can't run business on "confidence" without any more than you can lift yourself by your bootstraps.

Before going into the chicken raising business a man should know the lay of the land.

It takes nerve for a little man to tell a big man just what he thinks of him.

THREE MEN PRES-ELECT TAFT IS CONSIDERING FOR THE VARIOUS PLACES IN HIS PRESIDENTIAL CABINET

Washington, Nov. 9.—It has been officially announced in various quarters since the election that Frank H. Hitchcock, chairman of the Republican national committee; William Loeb, Jr., private secretary to President Roosevelt; and Frank B. Kellogg of Minnesota will enter the cabinet when William H. Taft becomes president. The cabinet slate tentatively

DEMOCRATIC SILVER LINING

(New York World.)

There is no more hopeful sign for the Democratic party than the character of the new leaders who are coming to the front.

Thomas Marshall of Indiana; Judson Harmon of Ohio, and John A. Johnson of Minnesota, were nominated to the Governorship of their States by accident. They are men of proved character and capacity.

Marshall stands in the front rank of his profession in Indiana. Harmon is not only a great lawyer but was one of the most efficient cabinet officers of the second Cleveland Administration. Johnson, three times chosen Governor of a Republican State, stands approved on his record as a man of achievement.

There will be three new Democratic United States Senators of equal ability, force and character—two of them succeeding Republicans. Governor Chamberlain of Oregon, who was selected for Senator in the primaries, is probably the ablest man in his State. Charles J. Hughes leads the Denver bar. He will succeed Henry M. Teller, who went over to the Democratic party on the silver question, but has never been a Democrat in spirit or an aggressive Democratic leader. John W. Kern, the Democratic candidate for Vice President, will probably succeed Senator Hemenway, an Indian who has elected a Democratic Legislature. He is a lawyer of recognized position and wide knowledge of public affairs.

All three of these men will be strong and useful in fortifying the Democratic Opposition in the United States Senate, and will contribute greatly to the rehabilitation of the Democratic party throughout the country.

BEARS HAD AWFUL JOY

VISITED CIDER PRESS AND FILLED UP ON THE "LEAVINS."

Pennsylvania Farmer Says They Cut Up All Sorts of Queer Capers, Including Salome Dances.

Laporte, Pa., Nov. 9.—"Searching their souls for sounds to tell how glad they felt," five big black bears, very, very drunk, gave a vaudeville performance in Loyalsock Woods, near Lumbria, late Thursday evening.

John Ferrell has a big cider press on the edge of the forest. Hundreds of bushels of apples have been ground and pressed during the past few months and the pomace dumped in a great heap near the Loyalsock creek. It is now rained on the pomace and it fermented.

Farmer Donald Gallagher was driving home from Ringdale when he heard the sounds of revelry. His horse stopped to proceed and he went forward to investigate. Dancing around the pomace pile were five bears, all whooping and squealing in Puckish and Gaudian. Gallagher says that while he watched the bear football game, a Puck war dance, a grand torchlight parade and a Salome dance.

AMUSEMENTS

THE PRESS AGENT SAYS:

The bill at the Orphium this week will certainly keep up to the standard of performances that Manager Moore has been handing out to us, and Sun & Murray are to be congratulated on the quality of acts that they have been putting in here.

The bill the first half of this week includes such a variety of acts that when properly placed, could not help but make a good entertainment. Orville, the foot equilibrist, will probably open the show. This gentleman played at Mt. Vernon last week, and the management there claims that he juggles things with his feet (that would be hard for others to do with their hands). The Most duo, a pair of singers, have a very clever singing sketch and never fail to leave a good impression with the audience. Rogers & Evans, in a comedy sketch, are both clever performers from every point of view. Mr. Rogers was formerly the partner of Mr. Trask, who played here last week. The O'Neal trio, three corking good singers, will close the bill. These three boys are old miniature boys and have never failed to establish a lasting reputation on the audience wherever they have played.

A noteworthy production of everybody's favorite drama, "East Lynne," will be given at the Auditorium theater by Joseph King's company next Thursday, matinee and night.

The production will be given under the personal direction of Mr. Joseph King, a stage director of reputation and ability, and a highly artistic, meritorious performance is assured.

Wagenhals and Kempers "Paid in Full" company, which plays at the Southern theater, Columbus, all this week, will be at the Auditorium theater Monday, Nov. 23.

The Auditorium theater's offer tomorrow night will be motion pictures, illustrated songs and Prof. Smith's orchestra. The motion pictures will be extra fine.

"THE WOLF."
An Advocate representative witnessed the performance of the great Schubert play, "The Wolf," at the Southern theater, in Columbus, Saturday evening, and can vouch for its being one of the brilliant theatrical successes of the season. Curtain calls were numerous, and at the end of the second act the company was forced to bow to four calls.

William Courtenay had the stellar part of "Julius Beaubien," a young French Canadian, and he handled it in a most admirable manner. He was ably assisted by Frances Rine, as Hilda M. Tish, daughter of Andrew McTavish, a Scotch settler and un-natural father.

son he wanted. Around this girl's life is woven a story rich in adventure, and ending in one of the most thrilling climaxes ever produced on the stage.

Tonight at the Auditorium theater, Newark theatrical patrons will witness the original production and the all star cast, including William Courtney, Frances Rine, Walter Hale, Charles Riegel, Sheridan Block and William Rosell, the same company that presented the play in New York and Chicago.

"US TO THE SHOW."
The Advocate force, including all departments of the "works" and the regular carrier boys, are to be object of Manager Moore's generosity Tuesday evening at the Orphium's first performance. The management of the theatre has very kindly extended an invitation to the force to witness the performance, and it is needless to say the invitation has been accepted with hearty thanks.

THE RINAIDES COMING.
By special arrangements Manager Moore of the Orphium has been able, through Sun & Murray, to secure for Newark an attraction that has been seen all over the world and one that has pleased in South America and Australia as well as on the Kieth circuit of theatres in this country. The Rinaldes, expert hoop rollers and jugglers extraordinary, will appear in Newark the last half of this week.

In private life the Rinaldes are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Rosebraugh. Mr. Rosebraugh is an old Newark boy, the son of Col. Cliff Rosebraugh.

ORATORIO "MESSIAH."
The fall festival of song will be held in the new High school auditorium Thursday, Nov. 19. The oratorio "Messiah" will be given by the Newark Choral society, with a chorus of 60 voices. The following artists will sing the different roles: Marion Green, basso cantate, of Chicago; the two McDonald sisters, of Columbus, will sing the soprano and contralto solos, and Prof. W. W. Flora, of this city, will sing the tenor solo. The society has been rehearsing all through the summer months, and a good performance is assured to the public. Mr. Green, of Chicago, will well be worth the small admission charged.

Mr. Green is considered the best basso cantate singer before the American public today. The McDonald sisters, of Columbus, are known to Newark people, and will give entire satisfaction in the work. Maud Wentz McDonald, the contralto, has been in Europe since spring, and Newark people can hear under very favorable conditions. Mr. Flora, as tenor, needs no introduction to the Newark people. He has sung the "Messiah" often, with pronounced success. The performance of the "Messiah" will be more of a financial undertaking than was the May festival of song, last May. The society has been working hard for the musical success of Newark and they intend working harder, but they don't wish to give any performance beyond the Newark people by the way of financial support. Marion Green alone is a $150 singer, and the society feels that Newark will respond, and respond heartily, in the support of this grand undertaking. "Messiah" is the greatest masterpiece of music ever given to the world. No oratorio is so popular, and none rendered so often. The work was written by George F. Handel in 21 days. To those who have ever heard "Messiah," don't miss the treat. Those who have heard it will be there, we feel sure.

To those who heard the May festival of song last May, we guarantee you a musical treat way beyond the May singing. Prof. Flora has put on the "Messiah" before, and has heard the interpretation many times. The chorus is doing fine work, with the two able pianists, Besse Glenn and Bertha Stevens. A musical performance will be given way in advance of any undertaking ever yet put before the music-loving people of Newark.

MIND STRUCTURES.

Although we cannot lay a brick Or juggle with a nail, Still palaces we may construct Or prisons grim and tall And make our residence therein Unfettered or confined According as we mold and form These buildings of the mind.

High in the regions of the air Are splendid corner lots, With splendid prospects all around, And other building spots. Though on them castles we construct Or palaces of mirth, We have to stay below and live In those we build on earth.

Stone walls do not a prison make, Said one who knew a lot, And iron bars are not a cage If we insist they're not, And, on the other calloused hand, A mansion grand may be A prison unto one within Unless the mind is free.

The home is what we make the same. Though humble, poor and low Or high and gilded to the dome And up in haughty row, In village or metropolis, In mansion or in flat, We make or mar it in our mind. Did you ever think of that?

Must Have Been.

"Why didn't Jones come?"
"He is at home cutting his hair."
"Cutting his hair?"
"He must be doing that. He told me over the phone that he was up to his ears in work."

Left Uncalled.
"What kind of a speech did he make last evening?"
"He was not on the programme, so he didn't make any."

"But I thought he had made arrangements to beat that game and get even with those jealous ones who had left him off."
"He thought he had, but unfortunately the populace whom he had hired to call for him went out to get a drink at a critical moment."

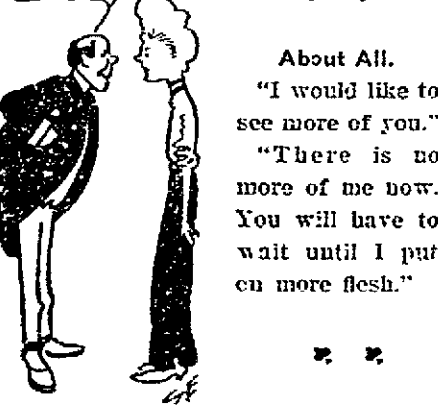

Wrong Mixture.
"So the book agent didn't win her."
"No. She turned him down."
"I thought his prospects there were bright."

"They were for awhile, but when he came to propose he forgot the speech he had learned for the occasion and got switched to a description of a new encyclopedia he was selling, and she wouldn't stand for it."

Bad Atmosphere.
"I have a bright idea."
"Have you?"
"Yes."
"Well, don't take it over to Brown's with you."
"Why?"
"His sour disposition might corrode it."

"Why backward?"
"With the vague hope that I might find some meaning in it."

Football, Soul Stirring Sport

New Plays Developed to Make the Game More Open This Season.
Forward Pass, the Chief Exhibit of the Reformers.

Measures Taken to Lessen the Chances of Injuries to Players.
Gridiron Heroes Who Are Attracting Special Attention.

By FREDERICK R. TOOMBS.

EVER since President Eliot of Harvard university declared that no gentleman could play football and since President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university stated that the game is an academic nuisance the followers and admirers of this soul stirring, nerve thrilling sport have been multiplying, all of which indicates that reformers (and reformers go, but football goes on forever. However, the reformers have left their marks on the game, the only pastime that successfully rivals baseball in popularity.

Responding to the tremendous pressure brought to bear on them, the gridiron solons have produced a series of brand of football that retains the spectacular features of the old game, adds some new "thrillers" and yet emasculates it in a degree to lessen the bone crushing tendencies. The developments of the reformed game will make the playing of this season more "open" and considerably faster than that of past years. While this desired end was possible to be gained last year, it was not generally reached because of the short period the new rules had been in effect.

A Striking New Play.

"Openness" in football means that players are kept somewhat separated from each other during action—that is, players of the attacking team. An open game is directly opposite to a style of game where the players of the attacking team are pressed together. The wiping out to a considerable degree of the terrifically crowded massing of muscular football players and hurling them at individuals, as was formerly the case, has necessarily resulted in turning into existence plays to take their place. These new plays, which are a striking feature of last year's and this year's operations and are now perfected in manner of execution, enable the average spectator to derive considerably more pleasure from the game. The forward pass is the stellar exhibit of the football reformers. They point to it and proudly say, "This is our child."

our little blue eyed curly locks." The forward pass all its players to throw the ball toward their enemy's goal, which was not allowed prior to the great reformation when the Luther and Calvins of the football world rose to their zenith of power and when President Roosevelt sanctioned the rulers of the game to the White House for consultation. It is the forward pass is being used in striking new combinations and in a play calculated to bewilder and play along the gridiron reformers cause the men to separate, pass for pronounced openness and to the uncertainty of the play. Under the best circumstances a play is difficult to catch, and the forward pass men have to be while running, so the "open" game is greatly developed. The forward pass has introduced a new element through a much covering kicking balls and the kicking game is more openness than game made up of players must be. There is a new variety, compared ever before. In a center men, the center rush is an absolute to the three backs, who ball carriers, who generally rush forward to twenty-five yards and then demand today. Conspicuous among the reforms of the intrinsic and economic value of the game. It eliminates the weak and develops added sturdiness in the strong in a majority of cases. It acts as a set-off, a counter, to the emasculatory and effeminizing tendencies of advanced civilization. Football thus stands as a barrier between this republic and the insidious influences that have undermined men and great nations of the past.

Largely a Trick Game.

The changes in football rules have effected an alteration in the basic nature of the game. Football today is largely a trick game, whereas formerly trick plays were exceptions. The forward pass and the on side kick are essentially trick plays, and their variations are likewise. Trick plays are always uncertain, and therefore the score of any game may be reversed at almost any moment. All this contributes to the value of the game from the spectator's viewpoint.

CAPTAIN EDWARD A. DILLON.

Several new alterations in the rules to lessen chances of injuries to players have been introduced this year. Added restrictions have been placed on the use of the hands in attempts to frustrate execution of the forward pass; also the intermission between the halves has been increased from ten to fifteen minutes. While this gives exhausted players longer time to recuperate and avoid results of over exertion, the spectators will not appreciate it. Pneumonia is the handmaiden of football. Hundreds of cases occur because of the long exposure of thousands of people to fall winds and temperatures. Any increase of the length of a game or intermission is inadvisable.

Has an Economic Value.

In spite of the number of deaths and injuries occasioned, football is of a vast economic value to this nation. It has materially increased the attendance at our colleges. It is the greatest advertising medium of the college world. It makes college life attractive to players as well as to nonplayers, who like to associate with the much lauded gridiron heroes. The enormous profits accruing from the contest where from twenty to forty thousand people pay high admission prices, enable many colleges to maintain gymnasiums, roving crews, hockey teams, etc., that they otherwise could not afford. Large sums of money are thus put into circulation, the health of almost the entire student body is benefited, and hundreds of men find employment. The tuition fees of students attracted to colleges by football swell the incomes of these colleges, contributing to their stability. Yes, football has economic value.

The American football frenzy has a deep national significance. The game had its origin in Greece and flourished under the name of phaidia (feinting) when the Hellenic empire was at its height. It was in a crude form played in Rome and called fallis in the times of the Caesars. Now Great Britain and the United States are its homes. Football is thus seen to have become a favorite pastime of strikingly militant nations. It affords an outlet for national cravings for human combat. More deadly than bullfighting, as thrilling as any battle between trained armies, the game is essentially a relief of aggression, which human suffering was considered the necessary accompaniment of existence. But here we find another explanation. But here we find another explanation. But here we find another explanation.

ADOLPH W. SCHULZ.
(Harvard Michigan university center.)

Thousands Spent on the Game.

There are over a million football players in America today. The leading colleges in every section of the country expend an average of over $20,000 yearly on the game. The United States government has to date spent over $200,000 in developing the game at the West Point academy, the Annapolis Naval academy and the Carlisle (Pa.) Indian school. The government officials and President Roosevelt maintain that football is invaluable as a training and developing medium for the brains and bodies of fighting men.

Football has not reached its greatest possible height in this country because there is no national championship contest. The eastern, western and southern colleges hold sectional championship contests, and there should be arranged a procedure whereby the nation's strongest team could be actually determined. The leading eastern football teams represent Yale, Princeton, Harvard, the University of Pennsylvania and Cornell. In the western division the universities of Chicago, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa and Nebraska and Northwestern university take precedence.

If Yale, Michigan and Vanderbilt universities in the east, west and south respectively should, for example, win their sectional championship titles, would not a series of games to decide the national premier arouse national enthusiasm? Would not the football public pay thousands of dollars and travel hundreds of miles if necessary to witness them? Would not the gridiron game receive a tremendous stimulus?

Qualities a Player Needs.

The idolatry of famous football players is another indication of the hold the game has on the public. To become a member of a leading college team a man must have the qualities of a stoic, the limbs of an Indian warrior, the quick wit of an Arab chief and the spirit of a fighting bull terrier. In addition he must have special qualities artificially produced. For instance, Edward H. Coy, the

EDWARD H. COY.
(Sensational Yale fullback.)

Yale fullback, is certain to be a shining figure this year because of his scientific kicking and spectacular line tearing plunges. He it was who made Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., leave the Harvard freshman team and stop football playing forever. Coy was on the Yale freshman team and had the Yale scheme of play changed so that he would be the man to handle the president's son when the Harvard backs were trying an end run. Coy went at Teddy junior, who was playing end, in such an earnest way that young Roosevelt was soon forced to retire. Coy performed that feat two years ago at the age of eighteen. Adolph W. Schulz, the great center rush of the Michigan team, is just the opposite of Coy. He is the ponderous anchor of the team, who must crouch in the line and receive the brunt of the attempts to "kick the center," in which attempts as many members of the opposing team as possible participate. Schulz has been known to stagger headlong through a team with from three to six men clinging to him. Two of the team captains who are now attracting special attention are Quarterback Eddie Dillon of Princeton and the greatest quarterback of the year, Walter P. Steffen of the University of Chicago. The quarterback is the mainspring of an eleven. He gives the signals that indicate what maneuver is to be executed and passes the ball from the center to the runner who carries it.

New Titles For Meals.

In an effort to give variety to every thing about their house the managers of a smart suburban hotel near New York do not call the three regular daily meals by the old names of breakfast, lunch and dinner. On the bill of fare appear the names "morning 'midday'" and "evening" meals.

The Awakening.

The statesmen dozed amid their toil. The plebeian fancies seemed to fit. The scene one called "Standard Oil." And everybody had a fit.

D. U. TROUNCED BY WESLEYAN

DELAWARE SQUAD PROVES UNDOING OF GRANVILLE TEAM SATURDAY.

Immense Crowd Witnessed Denison's Defeat After Hard Fought, Scoreless First Half.

Before the largest crowd of the season, Denison was defeated by Ohio Wesleyan Saturday at Granville in one of the prettiest exhibitions of the new game of football that has been seen on the local field in years. All the first half and for ten minutes of the second half Denison repeatedly threatened Ohio Wesleyan's goal and reached it by Rogers' right tackle, kicking a pretty placement goal from the 15-yard line.

This stated Wesleyan's pretty working of the forward pass, from which time she played all around Denison and in the remaining fifteen minutes of play ran up a score of 11 points.

In the first half Denison played better ball than did Wesleyan, but just at the critical point she would fail to take the ball the distance to be gained and Wesleyan would punt out of danger. The first half ended with the ball on Wesleyan's 10-yard line. Denison might have gained a touchdown had not the team argued too long as to who would carry the ball over. During the argument time was called and the half was over.

The scoring in the second half was done in the following way. Rogers for Denison kicks to Wesleyan's 25-yard line. Wesleyan could not gain and Cordray passed to Anderson who returns 10-yards. Livingston gained five but Whyte gained nothing on end run, so Anderson punted 15 yards. Wesleyan fumbled and Wright recovered the ball. Stillwell could gain nothing when Wesleyan's off side play gave Denison the first down on Wesleyan's 14-yard line. Here the visitors held like a stone wall and Rogers for Denison kicked a pretty field goal from the 15-yard line, scoring the first four points of the game. At this time the Denison rooters went wild with joy.

Poole kicked off for Wesleyan, and after exchanging a few punts Wesleyan got the ball in the center of the field and by two pretty well executed forward passes got the ball on Denison's 15-yard line. With an end run and two bucks Wesleyan gained the first four yards, but failed to kick goal. Score, 4-0.

Wesleyan's other touch-down came when Denison tried to work a forward pass on her own 10-yard line, when McDonald catching the ball ran for a touch-down. Patton kicked goal, making the score 11 to 0. Here Coach Richey of Wesleyan sent in a substitute and in a few minutes play was over with the ball on Denison's 40-yard line.

SCORELESS GAME PLAYED BY NEWARK

Out-weighted, though not out-played, the Newark High school football team returned home Sunday night from Cambridge after playing a scoreless game with their opponents, the fast, heavy team of that city. Cambridge was confident of taking the game from Newark, for they felt the defeat handed to them several weeks ago, when they were defeated at Waverly park by the score of 6 to 0.

The game was a fierce struggle from start to finish, with the work of both teams being about even. Newark showed improvement over a week ago, when they played a tie game with Central of Columbus. The past week had seen the eleven hard at work, and while they are content to have taken one game from Cambridge and tying the other, yet the boys were almost sure of a victory Sunday. The following was the lineup:

KENYON GETS FIRMER GRIP

"Big Nine" Championship Middle is Deeper Than Ever Since Defeat of Oberlin.

Kenyon, Reserve, Oberlin, Case, Ohio State, Wesleyan, Denison, Wooster, Heidelberg. That is the way the Big Nine colleges of Ohio rank on the football gridiron today. Kenyon made another runaway game of it in Redland and kept her record of victories clean. Oberlin suffered her first defeat from a Big Nine school and entered the class of also rans. team, gave them possession of second place and should Kenyon lose to Ohio State, then, saving, and Reserve triumph over Case on the same afternoon, these two teams ought to hold the honors jointly. State was put out of the running as an important factor unless Oberlin can come over with defeats of both Kenyon and Oberlin. Saturday was a day of its many football surprises as any day in recent years has furnished. The greatest surprise of the entire football world was perpetrated at the Harvard stadium when Yale was unexpectedly defeated 17 to 0. The second was the Yale-Brown game resulting in a tie. Other aspects of the legitimate dope were not so fully unexpected. The favorites as a whole surely had a hopeless day of it and the uncertainty of the game was again fully demonstrated.

Yale must have had an off day to let Brown tie the score.

Abele, quarterback for Amherst, who was carried off the field in the Cornell game Saturday, lives in Zanesville and has in my friends in Newark. He is a grid all-around athlete.

The tie score is Newark's "Jonah" this season. So far she has played three tie games.

Pine, Livingston, Rodgers and Anderson played the star game for Denison. Pine is a Newark boy and formerly played football with the high school.

The question now is, can Kenyon go through the season without a defeat? Coach Pierce has made a powerful team out of the Gambier squad.

Kenyon should be able to defeat O. S. U. without any trouble according to the dope. For she hasn't lost a game this year, and while she held Case to a 0 to 0 score, Case defeated the Columbus team 18 to 8.

ARGUMENTS FOR COUNTY OPTION OR AGAINST IT

Advocate Will Be Impartial in Contest to Be Waged in Licking County Soon.

Now that the petitions for an election in Licking county under provisions of the Rose County Local option law are in circulation and as the advocates of local option are holding meetings in Newark and over the county, many communications relating to the subject are being received at this office. Some of the communications support county local option while others oppose it.

The publication of these communications would involve much expense and occupy many columns of space. It would be manifestly unfair to publish some and ignore the others.

This newspaper is neither the organ of the liquor interests nor the champion of county option. It believes this is a question for the people themselves to decide and will not attempt to influence them.

Following the rule established by many other newspapers, the Advocate opens its columns to both sides and will accord impartial treatment to each, but to hold the argument within reasonable bounds will make the charge of twenty-five cents an inch for space. Arguments for and against local option may be published in this paper upon that basis and everything relating to the subject will be treated as advertising.

The position of this newspaper has been explained to the officers of the Local Option forces and to the Personal Liberty League each having been given assurance of impartial treatment. The statement here published is made for the benefit of those who have written or who may wish to express their views on the subject through these columns.

STUNT WAS "THRILLER"

WICHITA SOCIETY PEOPLE ARE TREATED TO A FEW "DOINGS."

Sorority Girls Compelled to Pull Off a Few Vaudeville Acts as Initiation.

Wichita, Kan., Nov. 9.—The homes of some of the best people of Wichita were entered Saturday night without invitation and the families were made or less shocked by beautiful girls, scantily yet daintily clad, who after pushing by the person who answered their ring of the doorbell, entered the parlor, and, in the presence of the household, gave a splendid exhibition of plain and fancy dancing, calculated to make the average vaudeville artist green with envy. The dancers departed as suddenly as they came, and left the people speechless.

Still another family gasped for breath when a beautiful young lady, clad only in a bathing costume, such as is calculated to make the folks on the bathing beaches sit up and take notice, entered the home, and mounting a chair, gave a diving stunt, using a folded rug as the pool. The family sat helpless until the girl had disappeared and then they began to get busy over the telephone.

It finally leaked out through one of the society women of the town that it was all a part of the initiation ceremony of the Lambda Alpha Lambda sorority. The girls are all members of the best society in the city and at schools.

"It was downright mean for the members of the fraternity to expect such embarrassing things of us," said one of the girls who had done her stunt. "But we promised to do our part, and we did it."

They certainly carried out their part of the program to perfection.

The Lambda Alpha Lambda is a national sorority for girls. It includes among its members only those of the highest social and school standing, and its membership is limited.

Fourth Matrimonial Alliance for Nat. and Second for the Charm-ing Edna.

Boston, Nov. 9.—Nat C. The ceremony was performed by a justice of the peace who has been a friend of Mr. Goodwin since boyhood, but whose name was not made public.

The wedding party arrived from New York early and comprised Mrs. Nellie Stevens, mother of the bride; Miss Goodrich, Mr. Goodwin and Geo. O. Weirion, Mr. Goodwin's manager. These, with Mr. Goodwin's mother, were the only ones present at the ceremony. A wedding breakfast was served after the ceremony.

The couple remained in Boston until late last evening, taking the midnight train for New York. The wedding yesterday is the fourth marriage of Mr. Goodwin and the fourth of Miss Goodrich.
